

What's new in PROMIS

The PROMIS team appreciates the user community's support during the recent technical upgrade of the PROMIS platform. This was a major project and enables a number of key system improvements.

The PROMIS team is now at the very early planning stage for a multi-year effort focused on system enhancements. Through that process the team will consult closely with the clinical community of PROMIS users.

Future upgrades to PROMIS will reduce wait times for users logging into and moving through the system. Clinicians will also benefit from faster delivery of reports and less duplication of data and data entry requirements.
